Our Mission

To share God's love by providing physical, mental and spiritual healing

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

With health care a top priority, Adventist Health is well positioned for success. Our vision in this new and dynamic health care landscape remains centered on our mission.

A fully integrated health care system fosters closer collaboration between physicians and hospitals, enhances care and meets the challenges and opportunities of health care reform. That's why we established the Adventist Health Physicians Network to provide a vehicle for financial and clinical integration. By developing and maintaining medical practices, we can provide quality patient care in an environment that attracts and retains physicians.

Another hospital-physician strategy is Computerized Provider Order Entry (CPOE). Electronic orders are received and processed faster which provides better care and more clinical decision support for physicians and nurses, along with many other benefits. CPOE has gone live at three hospitals and is continuing at seven sites in 2011.

We're also committed to innovating—everywhere! In 2010 Adventist Health launched an Innovation Council focused on embedding a deep and enduring capability for innovation throughout our system. This council is introducing new processes, products, services, and business models that are consistent with our mission.

Retirements and other changes in our hospital and corporate ranks are providing an opportunity to ensure strong and progressive leadership. You'll see new faces on the senior leadership page at the end of this report.

And in late 2010, we celebrated a tremendous milestone: the opening of Adventist Medical Center – Hanford, a new hospital that combines many services of Central Valley General Hospital and Hanford Community Medical Center to better provide quality patient care to our communities in California's Central Valley.

Focus on our mission, hard work and stewardship from employees and leaders across the system led us to strong financial results in 2010, which you'll see in the pages that follow. As we look to the year ahead, we're confident that living our mission will continue to make a difference in the communities we serve.

Living Our Mission

Through Innovation and Quality

Employees, doctors, volunteers and other partners truly have the power to make a difference in how we provide care.

System leaders, board members and experts in innovation formed the Innovation Council in 2010. The council works to build structure and tools that bring new ideas to life. By developing innovation capabilities throughout our system, we are positioning our integrated delivery network in the best possible way.

Leaders in clinical effectiveness launched the Emergency Department Collaborative to focus on streamlining processes and enhancing the patient experience. The goal of the project is to have superior EDs with exceptional results in patient flow (wait times, door to door admits, etc.), patient satisfaction and the quality of patient care.

System Quality Council (SQC) provides input and direction for Adventist Health's overall quality improvement strategy. Various initiatives are ongoing and the SQC has made significant progress in reducing hospital-acquired pressure ulcers, promoting good hand hygiene and creating a culture of safety.

To highlight the work that our physicians, nurses and support staff do every day, Mission and Spiritual Care created a video, "God's Fingerprints," based on seven adapted stories from around the system. Our mission is evident in "God's Fingerprints" and can be viewed at YouTube.com/AdventistHealth.

Working Together

To Provide Value-Based Care

Adventist Health and partner hospitals around the west coast region work together on various initiatives that help save money and provide resources needed to enhance value-based care.

Adventist Health's TelepharmacyWest was designed to fill the gap created when small rural hospitals' in-patient pharmacies close each day. With the launch of the program in August 2010, Adventist Health provides 24/7 pharmacy services to both system and non-system hospitals in need of support to enhance patient medication safety.

Premier, a leading group purchasing organization, enables hospitals to provide patients with reliable high-quality health care goods and services at the lowest cost. As a shareholder of Premier, Adventist Health and our affiliates annually purchase close to $650 million in goods and services through Premier. Because of this, Adventist Health and its affiliated hospitals realize significant savings in support of value-based patient care.

In January 2010, Western Health Resources (a subsidiary of Adventist Health) began accepting Kaiser Permanente San Diego's overflow home health patients through a unique partnership. This arrangement increases patient care to the local community. Throughout the year, Western Health's referrals from Kaiser Permanente tripled and they care for approximately 230 total patients a month.

Adventist Health and its partners have a mutual desire to provide value-based patient care in local communities. We work together to support and assist each other in ways that benefit patients.

Harnessing Patient-Focused

Technology

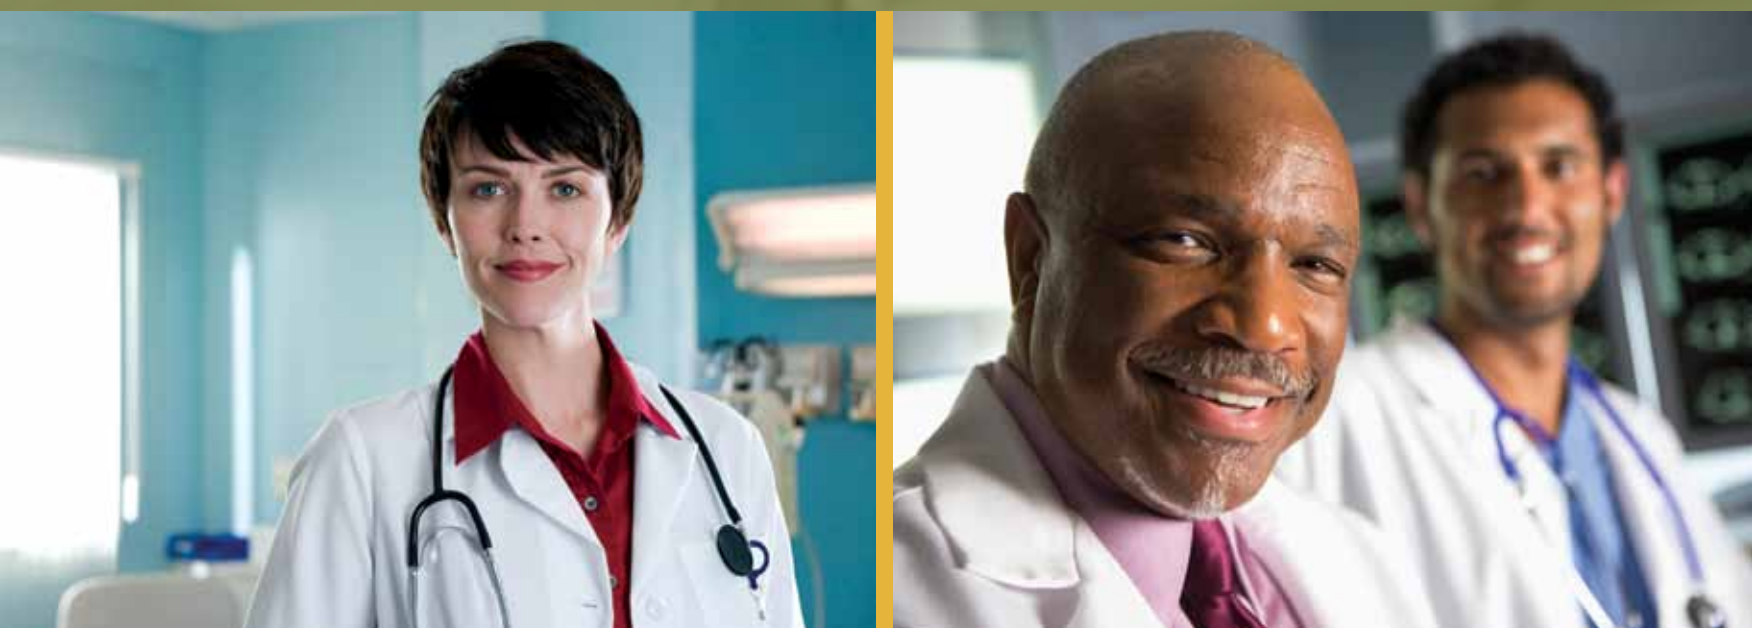

Adventist Health is focusing on information systems that improve patient safety, quality of care and operational performance across the clinical continuum. Adventist Health has invested millions into its state-of-the-art clinical information system, Project IntelliCare.

Project IntelliCare manages the patient experience electronically by giving clinicians access to patient records, including test results and medications—all online. Of equal importance is the transformation of patient care processes to achieve the highest quality care.

One of the newer aspects of Project IntelliCare is Computerized Provider Order Entry (CPOE). CPOE enhances patient safety and facilitates evidence-based/best practice medicine across the system. CPOE also allows for a more complete electronic health record by moving ordering, which is currently a paper-based function, to an online function. CPOE has gone live at three hospitals and is continuing at seven sites in 2011.

Physician Alignment

Adventist Health is expanding ongoing physician relationships. We partner with more than 300 physicians in a variety of models, including direct employment, hospital-based clinics, rural health clinics and, a newly created medical foundation (Adventist Health Physicians Network) comprised of various physician practices in California.

Adventist Health Physicians Network (AHPN) enables us to attain greater physician alignment while successfully operating in the environment of health care reform. It also provides a vehicle for financial and clinical integration while consolidating managed care contracts so that our physicians are represented in applicable payer markets. AHPN promotes high quality patient care in an environment that attracts and retains outstanding physicians.

Rural health clinics (RHCs) provide services to medically underserved areas. While most of the 30+ RHCs are in California, we have clinics in Oregon and Washington as well. Adventist Health's system of RHCs is the largest network in California and one of the largest in the nation.

We also operate more than 100 other hospital-based outpatient medical clinics, ambulatory surgery and imaging centers in combination with our 17 acute care hospitals. Our physician enterprise models, in association with our hospitals, home care and other business units provide a base for changes brought about by health care reform, including accountable care organizations. Through physician alignment and other initiatives, Adventist Health aims to continually work towards our vision of being a recognized leader in mission focus, quality care and fiscal strength.
